Background: (Complete whatever questions are appropriate)

- Give a brief paragraph about your jobs/responsibilities while at Intel.
- What do you miss most about working at Intel – if anything?
- How do you spend your time now that you are retired?-
- If you have hobbies, please tell us about them.
- If you are working, please let us know what you are doing and where you are working.
- Do you have tips for new retirees that can make the transition easier?
- What did you apply from your time at Intel to your “Life After Intel”?
- Please provide photos (jpg if possible) of yourself or of your “Life After Intel”.
- May we put your email address in the article in case other retirees wish to contact you?

Focus Topic:

Please provide a summary as to the focus of this article. For instance, if your article is about traveling, tell us where you traveled, what time of year, highlights, lowlights, whether you would recommend to other retirees, etc. If you’ve started a new career, please share how you got started, the challenges and rewards you encountered, advice you would give to others, etc.) If the focus is a hobby or an artistic endeavor, please share the progression from initial interest to your current level, any difficulties throughout the process and the satisfaction the activity generates.

Please include an email address so the story can be sent to you for review and a phone number (optional) in case we have questions. Also, pictures of you engaging in the activity highlighted are important to provide interest to the story. Thanks for your participation. Retirees enjoy learning about other retirees and their interests.
