2018 Intel Oregon Retiree Dinner
The 13th Retiree Dinner!

This year our dinner was held about a month later than usual. We had 88 people sign up and only 4 people did not show. I know that 2 of them were missing due to colds. (Thank you for being considerate to the rest of us!) The dinner was held back at the Pumpkin Ridge Golf Club. The room was very noisy with many people renewing friendships and meeting new people. The volume was loud with a lot of laughter and greetings.

This year again Susan McElfish supported the dinner by collecting the money and maintaining the registration list. This enabled me to hand out the raffle tickets and, surprise, to let everyone know that Intel, Steve Dufrene, supplied us with Intel 50th Anniversary t-shirts.

This year, as opposed to the last time we were at Pumpkin Ridge, the chef made plenty of food for everyone. The consensus was that the buffet was excellent with the Salmon being nice and juicy. We did run out of desserts but the chef sent more over and then also brought out a tray of cookies.

This year we had 2 speakers, Julie Coppernoll, Corp. VP Business Group Marketing and Chief Operating Officer Team Olympics plus Rick J. Echevarria, VP, Intel. They spent nearly an hour answering questions from the retirees. I enjoyed the back and forth camaraderie that they had.

Steve Dufrene, who is responsible for the Intel Retiree Organization, also contributed to the evening. He asked 2 questions about Intel and the first person with the right answer received a $50 Bugatti gift card. I will confess that I forgot that they were in my wallet so they were not on the raffle table.

Enjoy the following pictures and see how many people you recognize.

Here is the display of the 50th Anniversay t-shirts.

Here are the raffle items, of course, without the 2 $50 Bugatti gift cards.
